(9) Our details

In this disclaimer, "we" and "us" and "our" refer to TnT Paranormal Investigators LLC, an LLC in the state of Illinois.

(10) Other

We wish to point out that we, founders and team, are not professional or expert paranormal investigators. We all have a personal interest in investigating possible paranormal phenomena but, as the paranormal is not an exact science, we can only give our opinion, based on our experience, as to whether the phenomena we may encounter, or be informed about, has a natural or man-made cause.

We have no, nor are there, any qualifications or certification as paranormal investigators but have an interest and many years' experience between us investigating the causes of possible paranormal phenomena. We have no experience of, nor will we attempt, any "clearing" or "cleansing" or "assisting spirits/ghosts to pass over" etc.

This is a hobby for us, albeit an enjoyable and interesting one, and therefore we have no wish to misrepresent ourselves. We are extremely happy to try and help people who are possibly suffering paranormal activity but we cannot give any guarantee that the conclusions we come to are accurate or complete. We cannot tell you definitively that entities (ghosts, spirits, poltergeists, or non-human entities, aka demons) exist as, obviously, if there was actual scientific proof these things by definition would not be paranormal! We may, either as a team or personally, discuss such things with you but any reference to these "entities" should be viewed as a discussion point only and not as us confirming or denying their existence. We ask you politely to come to your own conclusions with regard to this fascinating subject.
